

Europe's Sovereign Debt Crisis

Evening Seminar at the Institute of International and European Affairs

14 June 2010

5.30pm - 7.30pm

IIEA, 8 North Great Georges Street, Dublin 1

IN ASSOCIATION WITH

Law Society of Ireland

Speakers:

Lee C. Buchheit

Partner based in the New York office of Cleary
Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

Dietmar Hornung

Vice-President and Senior Analyst of Moody's
Rating Agency Sovereign Risk Group

Ann Pettifor

Executive Director of Advocacy International and a fellow of the UK's New Economics Foundation

ABOUT THE EVENT:

At this seminar, jointly hosted by the IIEA and the Law Society of Ireland's EU & International Affairs Committee, an expert panel will evaluate the political context of the current crisis, its implications for the Euro, and its likely impact on the real economy.

Europe's Sovereign Debt Crisis

Evening Seminar at the Institute of International and European Affairs

About the Speakers:

Lee C. Buchheit is an internationally renowned US legal expert on sovereign debt issues. He currently serves as the chairman of the Icelandic government's negotiating committee in the Icesave dispute between the Icelandic, British and Dutch governments.

Dietmar Hornung is the Vice-President and Senior Analyst of Moody's Sovereign Risk Group. He is also the rating agency's lead analyst on Ireland.

Ann Pettifor is the Executive Director of Advocacy International and a fellow of the UK's New Economics Foundation. She is well known for her work on sovereign debt and international finance, including co-founding the Jubilee 2000 (Drop the Debt) campaign.

The seminar will be chaired by Dan O'Brien, former Europe Editor of the Economist Intelligence Unit and incoming Economics Editor of the Irish Times.

Further Information:

Members of the press wishing to attend this event should contact Shane Fitzgerald by email: shane.fitzgerald@iiea.com, phone: 01 874 6756 or on his mobile: 087 061 8310.

Attendance is free and open to the public but registration is required. To register, call (01) 874 6756 or email reception@iiea.com.

The Institute of International and European Affairs is a think tank and policy research institute based in Dublin which analyses international and European Affairs. It acts also as a forum, bringing together major stakeholders to discuss issues of national, European and international significance.

For details of all upcoming IIEA events, please visit www.iiea.com.