About TEPESA

The Trans European Policy Studies Association (TEPSA) was established in 1974 as the first transnational research network in the field of EU affairs. It comprises leading research institutes throughout Europe, with an office in Brussels. Its aim is to provide high-quality research on European integration to stimulate discussion on policies and political options for Europe. This is achieved by the interaction between the European and national institutions as well as the academic and research community. TEPESA is active on a wide range of research topics, focusing on differentiated integration, the EU's external relations, democratic participation and citizens' engagement.

More information on its activities can be found at <http://www.tepsa.eu>.

About the Institute of International and European Affairs

The Institute of International and European Affairs is a leading international affairs think tank in Ireland, aiming to provide a forum for all those interested in EU and International affairs to engage in debate and discussion, and to evaluate and share policy options. The IIEA is an independent, not-for-profit organisation with charitable status.

More information on its activities can be found at <https://www.iiea.com/>.

About Future Proofing Europe

The IIEA's Future Proofing Europe project is a three-year integrated programme of research publications, events, and public diplomacy which runs from September 2023 until December 2026. Supported by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, the Future Proofing Europe project aims to address, analyse, and communicate to a wider public the debates on a range of priority issues for Ireland and EU over the period 2023-2026.
